Prospectus.

This Literary Institution, situated on Washington Avenue, between Ninth and Eleventh Streets, in the City of St. Louis, was founded in 1829, by members of the Society of Jesus. It was incorporated by an Act of the State Legislature, December 28, 1832, under the name and style of "St. Louis University," and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors in all the learned professions, and generally "to have and enjoy all the powers, rights and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." It has experienced uninterrupted prosperity, has steadily advanced and offers the student every facility for acquiring a liberal education.

The Institution possesses a valuable Museum, which contains a great variety of specimens, both of Nature and Art, collected from various quarters of the globe, especially from our own country; also a very beautiful and complete Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus. The library belonging to the Institution numbers over 25,000 volumes, embracing almost every branch of literature and science, and containing many rare and interesting works. The select libraries, open to the students, form a separate collection of over 6,000 volumes.

General Regulations.

The Academic Year consists of one session, beginning on the first Monday of September, and ending in the last week of June, when the Annual Commencement, the Conferring of Degrees and the Distribution of Premiums take place.

The session is divided into two terms—the first ending on the first of February and the second in the last week of June. A thorough examination of all the classes is made at the close of each term. Every month the places or degrees of merit obtained by the students in the different classes are publicly proclaimed, and honors are awarded to such as have been most distinguished for good conduct, diligence and proficiency.

On completion of the Classical Course, the degree of A. B. is conferred upon those who, on examination, are found deserving of that distinction. Subsequently, the degree of A. M can be obtained by devoting a second year to the study of Philosophy in the Institution, or two years to a learned profession.

Students of the English Course receive an honorary certificate on completion of the course; and those who return for another year to attend the Course of Science will be entitled to the degree of Bachelor of Science, on the conditions specified below.

Every candidate for admission, who is not personally acquainted with some member of the Faculty, must produce proper testimonials of a good moral character. If he comes from another College, he will be required to present a certificate of good standing in the institution which he has left.

Every month reports are sent to the parents or guardians of the students, to inform them of the conduct and improvement of their sons or wards.

Punctual attendance is earnestly recommended. Parents are regularly informed of the non-attendance of their sons, who, in case of absence, are invariably required to bring a note of excuse to the Vice-President. In order that the lessons may be prepared with proper assiduity, parents are requested to insist on their sons studying at home for two or three hours every evening. When students are to be withdrawn from the institution, due notice should be given to the President.

The College is opened every morning at half-past seven o'clock. Those who come before the time of class, proceed, at once, to the Study Hall, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before half-past eight o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. At nine o'clock A. M. the regular exercises of class commence, closing at four P. M.

Terms.

As the Institution is not endowed, it is entirely dependent for its support on the fees paid for tuition.

Tuition per session of ten months, for all classes, including Stationery, ... $60.00

Students of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, for the use of the apparatus, pay $10 per session.

School books are furnished, if parents desire it, at current prices.

Diploma for Graduates in the Classical, Scientific or Post-Graduate Course, $10.

Certificates for the completion of the English Course, $5.

Payments must be made quarterly or semi-annually in advance. The account for tuition, etc., dates from the day of the student's entrance, whether at the beginning or during the course of a term.

St. Mark's Academy

Was organized at the St. Louis University in 1876. Its object is the development of an active Catholic spirit, the defence of Catholic truths, especially in their bearing on civil society, and the cultivation of a taste for philosophical, literary and scientific studies. The members are required to be practical Catholics, and must either have received a University degree, or be over twenty-one years of age, and gentlemen of education and good standing in society.

The meetings are held every alternate Wednesday, and the proceedings begin and end with a brief prayer.

Contributions of Lectures, Essays, Recitations and Readings are purely voluntary, the subject of each paper being announced to the Academy at least two weeks before the same is to be delivered. To enable the gentlemen of the Academy to become acquainted beforehand with the subjects to be treated, and to engage with greater profit in the discussion which follows the reading of each paper, the Secretary, a few days before each meeting, sends to every member a printed programme of the entertainment.

After the conclusion of the regular business, discussion is in order upon any topic that excites the interest of the members, or on which they desire to elicit the views of their colleagues. Such discussion must invariably be preceded by a clear statement of the question from the person presenting it.

Gentlemen introduced from time to time by members are welcomed, and accorded, for that occasion, the privileges of honorary members.

The diversity of tastes and pursuits on the part of the Academicians insures a variety of topics and profitable criticism, as is apparent from the subjects discussed in the Academy.
